The Child Passenger Protection Act - Leandra's Law

On November 18, 2009, Governor Patterson signed into law some of the toughest penalties in the nation in response to the tragedies that have taken the lives of children who died while passengers in a vehicle driven by an intoxicated person on New York roadways. The consequences of driving a motor vehicle containing a child passenger when the driver is intoxicated or impaired by drugs are severe and apply even to first time offenders.

- First time offenders arrested for Driving While Intoxicated ("DWI") (.08 Blood Alcohol Content (BAC) or more) or Driving While Ability Impaired by Drugs (DWAI) while a child of younger than 16 years old is in the vehicle may be charged with a class E felony punishable by up to 4 years in State prison.
- Individuals charged with driving with a blood alcohol level of .08 or greater and with a child under the age of 16 in the vehicle would automatically have their license suspended pending prosecution.
- People who drive while intoxicated or impaired by drugs and cause the death of a child younger than 16 in the car may be charged with a Class B felony, punishable by up to 25 years in State prison.
- People who drive while intoxicated or impaired by drugs and cause serious physical injury to a child in the vehicle may be charged with a Class C felony, punishable by up to 15 years in State prison.
- The parent, guardian, custodian or otherwise legally responsible person for a child who is charged with DWAI alcohol or DWAI drugs while that child is a passenger in the car would be reported to the Statewide Central Register of Child Abuse and Maltreatment by the arresting agency.
- Child Protective Services will conduct a thorough investigation of the motorist and the family residing with the motorist.
- An Order of Protection will entered against the Motorist in favor of the child passenger at arraignment. The Order will likely preclude the Motorist from having any contact whatsoever with the child passenger.
- Modification of an Order of Protection will likely require an application in Family Court.
- Mandatory Installation of an Ignition Interlock Device on all vehicles owned by the motorist (effective August 10, 2010).
- This law became effective on December 18, 2009.
